The Second University of Naples

The Second University of Naples (SUN) (<https://www.unina2.it>) was established in 1991 (Decree MURST, 25 March) with the aim of relieving the overcrowded conditions of the major Neapolitan university known as the “Federico II”. On the official date of November 1st 1991, the Second University began to function autonomously with nineteen thousand enrollments and eight faculties located in five different territorial areas of Caserta and Naples. Currently, there are thirty thousand students attending the SUN’s 19 Departments. The University’s multicampus structure has two offices for its Rector: one in Naples and one in the Royal Palace of Caserta. The meeting will take place in “Sala Conferenze della Facoltà di Medicina e Chirurgia” located at Via S. M. di Costantinopoli, 104.

How to reach Sala Conferenze della Facoltà di Medicina e Chirurgia” Via S. M. di Costantinopoli, 104 from Capodichino International Airport:

All taxis are required to display the Tariff Card (in Italian and English) on the back of the front seat of the taxi to allow the rider to choose either a metered journey or fixed tariff price. If you want a fixed tariff rate however, you must tell the driver that before proceeding. Table reporting fixed tariff is attached to this document.

What to see in Naples:

Naples heart - the historic centre of Napoli

How to reach the historic centre of Napoli: ☑The best way to see Naples heart is on foot!☑By underground (subway) “Metro Line 1 - Piazza Dante station” or by Bus (Piazza Dante bus stop) , then walk direction Port'Alba/Piazza Bellini.

Naples heart is the historic city, which UNESCO declared a Cultural Heritage site. Its narrow alleyways lead to mysterious churches, catacombs and underground caves. Until today, Naples old folk culture reveals itself to the visitor among craftspeople, fluttering laundry and shouting fish sellers. The historic city is characterized by many churches. You often find several of them in one street among Baroque style palaces of aristocratic families and antique residences. Naples' most important church is the San Gennaro (St. Januarius) Cathedral, where each year the famous Miracle Blood ceremony takes place. The Gothic churches, San Lorenzo Maggiore and San Domenico Maggiore, as well as the Baroque church, Gesù Nuovo, are worth a visit. The San Severo Chapel is fascinating because of its mysterious anatomic machines, two skeletons that are inexplicably covered with a system of fossil veins and arteries. In addition, you can see beautiful Baroque sculptures from the 17th and 18th century. A wonderful place to take a rest is the garden of the Santa Chiara Convent with its columns, little benches, and walls that are wainscoted with beautiful colorful majolica. Vis-à-vis on Via San Sebastiano, you can find music stores that, because of their vicinity to the conservatory, still sell mandolins. Nearby is the street of the booksellers, Port'Alba, where you can buy delicious pizza at the street counter of the pizzeria of the same name and eat it right away. A trip to Naples's underworld is an exciting experience: Under the city, which stands on tufa, is a labyrinth of caves some 80 km long. The gate to the underworld is tucked away at the Piazza San Gaetano. The guided tours take 1.5 hours. The historic city offers numerous places to do some shopping, above all, for crafts, antiques, and souvenirs. You should definitely visit the Via San Gregorio Armeno, the famous street of the nativity scene makers (neapolitan cribs, in italian presepe napoletano). During Christmas time, more than half a million tourists come to see the shops with the original miniature figurines. However, they are open all year round and you can take your time and have a look around after New Year's.

Lungomare: A Walk Along the Seashore

How to reach the Seashore: ☑By underground (subway) “Metro Line 2 - Piazza Amedeo station” “Metro Line 1-Municipio Station” or by Bus “Line R3”, Riviera di Chiaia bus stop

Via Partenope is the beginning of the seafront road where Castel dell’Ovo (Egg’s Castle) rises on an island that is connected to the mainland. From the castle, you have a fantastic view of the Mount Vesuvius as well as the quarters Mergellina and Posillipo. At the picturesque marina you find excellent restaurants and bars.☑☑A little further, Villa Comunale, a big park with palm trees, chalets, and beautiful fountains, extends along the famous seafront road, Via Caracciolo. If you are interested, you can visit the zoological station, Aquarium Dohrn, which is Europe’s oldest aquarium. The walk along the seashore to the touristic harbour of Mergellina is very romantic. Close by the harbour, fishermen sell their freshly caught fish. At the end of Via Caracciolo, nice chalets invite you to have a cocktail while you are enjoying the sea view.☑☑
